INDEX

A

Academy of Human Resource Development (AHRD), 341, 347
Accountability: awareness and, 318–319; definition of, 308; evaluation apprehension and, 310; expectations and, 310; importance of, 308; individual factors in, 309, 310; job satisfaction and, 309; multidimensional view of, 319; multiple constituencies and, 309; organizational outcomes of, 309; organizational structure and, 312; performance and, 309; research on, 310–311; role theory model of, 311; secondary outcomes of, 309; self-managed teams and, 307–308; sources of, 308; stereotyping and, 310; trust and, 311. See also Accountability, job satisfaction and trust and (study)
Accountability, job satisfaction and trust and (study): discussion, 318–320; future research, 319–320; hypotheses, 311–312; limitations, 319; measures, 313–314; method, 312–314; participants, 313; procedure, 313; results, 314–318. See also Accountability; Job satisfaction; Trust
Action learning, 244–245, 253–256
Adult learning theory, 148
Affective commitment, 360–361
Affectivity, 359
Agut, S., "Managerial Competency Needs and Training Requests: The Case of the Spanish Tourist Industry," 31–51
AHRD Conference Proceedings, 341–344
Alagarja, M., review by, 471–475
Alliance building, 451
American Society for Training and Development (ASTD), 129–131
Articles: "Burnout and Job Satisfaction Among Student Support Services Personnel," 169–188; "The Costs and Benefits of Lifelong Learning: The Case of the Netherlands," 151–168; "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406; "The Emerging External Labor Market and the Impact on Enterprise's Human Resource Development in China," 449–468; "An Exploratory Investigation of Learning Culture Theory and Employee Participation in Decision Making," 271–288; "Large-Scale Organizational Change and Performance: An Empirical Examination," 289–305; "Managerial Competency Needs and Training Requests: The Case of the Spanish Tourist Industry," 31–51; "Matching Training Methods and Factors of Cognitive Ability: A Means to Improve Training Outcomes," 71–87; "Multisource Assessment Programs in Organizations: An Insider's Perspective," 187–202; "The Relationship Between Workplace Learning and Job Satisfaction in U.S. Small to Midsize Businesses," 407–425; "Relationships Between Accountability, Job Satisfaction, and Trust," 307–323; "The Relative Impact of Workplace Design on Training Transfer," 427–447; "Strategic Alignment of Training, Transfer-Enhancing Behaviors, and Training Usage: A Posttraining Study," 89–108; "A Study of the Influence of Promotions on Promotion Satisfaction and Expectations of Future Promotions Among Managers," 325–340; "A Systems Approach to Measuring Return on Investment of HRD Interventions," 203–224; "Toward Improved Employment Relations Practices of Casual Employees in the New South Wales Registered Clubs Industry," 53–70
Asia, HRD in. See China, HRD in (study); International HRD, and indigenous and multinational firms (study)
"Assessing Institutional Sources of Scholarly Productivity in Human Resource Development from 1995 to 2001," 341–345
Assessment. See Multisource assessment (MSA); Multisource assessment programs, in organizations (study)
ASTD Research-to-Practice Committee, 237, 239

Copyright © 2002 Wiley Periodicals, Inc.

Australia, casual workers in. See Casual workers, employment relations with (study)

B

Bae, J., "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406

Baldwin, T. T., "Invited Reaction: Linking Learning with Financial Performance," 23–29

Bartlett, K. R., "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406

BCG (Brogden/Cronbach/Gleser) model, 206–207, 219

Behavior. See Organizational behavior; Managerial behavior

Benson, J., "The Emerging External Labor Market and the Impact on Enterprise's Human Resource Development in China," 449–468

Bierema, L. L., "HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242; review by, 117–121

Brandenburg, D. C., "HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242

"Brave Old World," 123–125

Brewer, E. W., "Burnout and Job Satisfaction Among Student Support Services Personnel," 169–188

Brutus, S., "Multisource Assessment Programs in Organizations: An Insider's Perspective," 187–202

Burnout: causes of, 171–173; definition of, 171; deleterious effects of, 169–170; demographic factors and, 172–173; effects of, 173; environmental/organizational factors and, 171–172, 182; helping professions and, 170; Higher Education Act of 1965, 170; job satisfaction and, 173–174, 182–183; personality factors and, 172; research populations on, 170; Student Support Services personnel and, 170; theories of, 171; three-dimensional model of, 171; work outcomes and, 173

Burnout/job satisfaction, in Student Support Services personnel (study): data analysis, 177–178; demographic survey and, 177; discussion, 182–184; further research recommendations, 184; hypotheses, 174–175, 181–182; implications, 182–184; instruments, 176–177; Job Satisfaction Scale and, 176; literature review, 171–175; Maslach Burnout Inventory and, 176; methodology, 175–178; purpose, 175; research questions, 174–175, 178–181; results, 178–182; sample characteristics, 178; sampling procedures, 176; target population for, 176. See also Burnout; Job satisfaction

"Burnout and Job Satisfaction Among Student Support Services Personnel," 169–188

C

Calculation model, of lifelong learning, 158–162

Careers: HRD and, 238; promotions and, 325; redefinition of, 238. See also Promotions, and promotion outcomes (study)

Carter, S. D., "Matching Training Methods and Factors of Cognitive Ability: A Means to Improve Training Outcomes," 71–87

Case study approach, 244, 247–2550, 254, 256–258

Case-based learning, 266

Casual workers: advantages of, 54; coaching of, 65–66; commitment of, 64; competitiveness and, 55: definition of, 54 empowerment of, 64–65; feedback for, 65–66; managerial support of, 65; performance appraisals of, 66; studies of, 57; vs. temporary employees, 54; training/development of, 66–67

Casual workers, employment relations with (study): background, 55; conclusion, 68; discussion, 64–67; findings, 59–63; HRD and, 68; justification, 55–57; method, 57–59; objectives, 55; questionnaire survey, 58–63; themes, 59–60.

See also Casual workers Change: as good/necessary, 2; in HRDQ, 1–2; September 11 and, 2; study/reflection and, 1. See also Organizational change
"Change and Stability," 1–3
Chen, S., "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406
Chermack, T. J., "Assessing Institutional Sources of Scholarly Productivity in Human Resource Development from 1995 to 2001," 341–345
China: economic changes in, 449–450, 452; economic reform efforts in, 454–455; emerging external labor market in, 450, 455–456; HRD policy in, 452–456; industrial accidents in, 454; product quality in, 454; productivity in, 454; science-industry interface in, 454; state-owned enterprises in, 449; workforce education in, 454. See also China, HRD in (study)
China, HRD in (study): data analysis, 459; data collection, 458–459; discussion, 463–464; emerging external labor market and, 455–456; employee skill levels and, 459–460; enterprise profile, 456–458; future research, 465; HRD policy and, 452–456; HRD strategies and, 451–452, 461–463; implications, 465; research methods, 456–459; research questions, 450; results, 459–461; theoretical issues and, 450–452. See also China
Cho, D. "The Connection Between Self-Directed Learning and the Learning Organization," 467–470
Clippard, L. F., "Burnout and Job Satisfaction Among Student Support Services Personnel," 169–188
Coevolution, 293
Cognitive ability: definition of, 73; factors of, 73; learning and, 73–74. See also Training methods, and cognitive ability (study)
Cognitive theory: multimedia-based model and, 268; problem-based training and, 267
Commitment. See Affective commitment; Continuance commitment; Normative commitment; Organizational commitment; Work commitment
Communication, 148
Competency: definition of, 33; generic, 33, 35–36; technical, 33, 35–36; training needs and, 32–33; types of, 33, 35–36
Competency needs analysis: KSAs and, 32–33; managerial, 33–34; performance improvement and, 32–33; training needs and, 32. See also Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
Competitiveness: casual employment and, 55; globalization and, 390
"Connection Between Self-Directed Learning and the Learning Organization, The," 467–470
Conscientiousness, 369
Continuance commitment, 360–361
Contracting out, 451
Convergence theory, 384–385
"Costs and Benefits of Lifelong Learning: The Case of the Netherlands, The," 151–168
Crosby, F. J., Mentoring Dilemmas: Developmental Relationships within Multicultural Organizations, reviewed, 117–121
Cude, R. L., Human Resource Development and Information Technology: Making Global Connections, reviewed, 347–350
"Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 243–261
Cultural values perspective, 387

D

Danielson, C. C., "Invited Reaction: Linking Learning with Financial Performance," 23–29
De Souza, G., "A Study of the Influence of Promotions on Promotion Satisfaction and Expectations of Future Promotions Among Managers," 325–340
Decision making. See Participation, in decision making
Derayeh, M., "Multisource Assessment Programs in Organizations: An Insider's Perspective," 187–202
DeSimone, R. L., Human Resource Development (Third Edition), reviewed, 231–235
Development. See Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study); Training/development

"Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406
Dimensions of the Learning Organization Questionnaire (DLOQ), 7–8, 10–11, 13–15, 17, 25
Dispositional research: behavioral outcomes and, 358; situational emphasis of, 357. See also Personality theory
Distributive justice, 327
Diversity. See Workforce diversity
Dooley, L. M., review by, 471–475
Dose, J. J., "Relationships Between Accountability, Job Satisfaction, and Trust," 307–323
Dou, Z., "A Systems Approach to Measuring Return on Investment of HRD Interventions," 203–224
Double loop learning, 254, 266

E

East/Southeast Asia, HRD in. See International HRD, and indigenous and multinational firms (study)
Editorial: "Brave Old World," 123–125; "Change and Stability," 1–3; "HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242; "Humor, Humor Theory, and HRD," 351–355
"Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning, The," 357–376
Egan, T. M., review by, 347–350
Ellinger, A. D., "The Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment," 5–21
Ellinger, A. E., "The Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment," 5–21
Ely, R. J., Mentoring Dilemmas: Developmental Relationships within Multicultural Organizations, reviewed, 117–121
"Emerging External Labor Market and the Impact on Enterprise's Human Resource Development in China, The," 449–468
Employee satisfaction. See Job satisfaction
Employees: perceptions of justice of, 327–328; societal value added and, 110–112; tenure of, 337. See also Casual workers, employment relations with (study); Organizational learning culture, and employee participation in decision making (study)
Employment: casual vs. temporary, 54; externalization of, 55, 64; nonstandard forms of, 54
Environment and behavior (EB) research: goals/topics of, 430; organizational performance and, 431; physical environment-behavior interface and, 430; workplace design and, 429–431
Equity theory, 327
Ethics: defining constructs and, 227; Humean principles and, 228. See also Standards of Ethics and Integrity (AHRD)
Expertise. See Professional expertise
Experts, 244, 267
"Exploratory Investigation of Learning Culture Theory and Employee Participation in Decision Making, An," 271–288

F

Far transfer, 265
Feature: "Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 243–261; "The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 357–376; "Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 127–143; "Invited Reaction: Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 263–269; "Invited Reaction: Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 145–150; "Invited Reaction: Linking Learning with Financial Performance," 23–29; "Invited Reaction: The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 377–382; "The Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment," 5–21

Fimbel, N., "Invited Reaction: Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 145–150
First Leisurely Theorem, 208
Five-Factor Model (FFM), 359
Formal learning, 240, 410, 422
Forum: "Assessing Institutional Sources of Scholarly Productivity in Human Resource Development from 1995 to 2001," 341–345; "The Connection Between Self-Directed Learning and the Learning Organization," 467–470; "Keep Your Metaphor . . . Please!" 225–226; "A Perspective Adjustment to Add Value to External Clients, Including Society," 109–115; "Perspectives on the Ethical Standards of the Academy," 227–230
Future Search Conference, 238, 240

G

Generic competency, 33, 35–36
Globalization: competitiveness and, 390; cross-cultural training and, 240; defined, 239–240; HRD and, 238–240, 383, 385; leadership development and, 240; team development and, 240
Goal-based scenario approach, 244, 250–251, 255
Goal setting, 429
Goals, of HRD, 238
Graham, P. G., "Perspectives on the Ethical Standards of the Academy," 227–230
Grau, R., "Managerial Competency Needs and Training Requests: The Case of the Spanish Tourist Industry," 31–51
Guerra, I., "A Perspective Adjustment to Add Value to External Clients, Including Society," 109–115;

H

Harris, D. M., Human Resource Development (Third Edition), reviewed, 231–235
Hatcher, T. G., "Brave Old World," 123–125
Holton, E. F., III, "The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on "Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 357–376; Foundations of Human Resource Development, reviewed, 471–475
Howton, S. W., "The Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment," 5–21
"HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242
HRD graduate programs: adult learning theory and, 148; communication and, 148; curriculum of, 131; enrollment statistics for, 130–131; growth of, 127; HRD job market and, 130–131; HRD program research and, 128, 141; HRD roles and, 131–132, 148–149; literature review of, 129–132; meta-HRD and, 148; structure of, 129–130. See also HRD graduate programs (study)
HRD graduate programs (study): background, 127–128; conclusion, 138–141; critique of, 145–149; curriculum and, 137–138, 140–141, 145–149; data collection, 132–133; enrollment and, 137, 140; future research recommendations, 140–141; information types, 133; institutional affiliation and, 134–139, 146–147; limitations, 141; literature review, 129–132; methodology, 132–133; purpose, 128, 132, 138; research questions, 128, 138; results, 133–138; value of, 128, 141. See also HRD graduate programs
HRD interventions: analytical framework for, 212–214; employee satisfaction and, 217–218; purpose of, 212; sales volume and, 216–217. See also Return on investment, for HRD interventions (study)
HRD practitioners: HRD research and, 474; managerial competency needs and, 47–48; strategic alignment and, 104–105
HRD research: dialectical tension in, 354; HRD practitioners and, 474; humor and, 352; humor theory and, 352–353; metaphors and, 352; poking fun at, 351
HRD strategies: alliance building, 451; contracting out, 451; internal development, 451–452; recruitment, 451–452; theoretical approaches to, 451

Human capital theory, 152, 204, 451
Human resource development (HRD): causal employees and, 68; core values/goals of, 238; defining ethical constructs in, 227; definitions of, 127–128, 352; foundations of, 471; globalization and, 238–240, 383, 385, 390; importance of, 471; job market in, 130–131; just-in-time learning and, 238, 240–241; meeting new challenges in, 124; metaphor and, 352; need for analysis/inquiry in, 226; roles, 131–132; shareholder value and, 238–239; systems change and, 237; theoretical underpinnings of, 450–452; tradition of, 123–125; traveler analogy and, 237; trends influencing, 238. See also HRD graduate programs; HRD interventions; HRD practitioners; HRD research; International HRD; Scholarly productivity, in HRD (study)
Human Resource Development (Third Edition), reviewed, 231–235
Human Resource Development and Information Technology: Making Global Connections, reviewed, 347–350
Human Resource Development Quarterly (HRDQ), 124
Human resource management (HRM): convergence theory and, 384–385; cultural values perspective and, 387; globalization and, 383
Humor: corporate contexts and, 353–354; HRD research and, 352; therapeutic benefits of, 354
Humor theory: components of, 352; HRD contexts and, 353–354; HRD research and, 352–353; power relationships and, 353: superiority theory and, 353
"Humor, Humor Theory, and HRD," 351–355
Hypothetico-deductive reasoning, 255

I

Incidental learning, 410, 422
Industrial-organizational (I/O) psychology, 206
Informal learning, 240, 410, 422
Information presentation, 72
Information processing, 72
Information technology (IT): HRD and, 347–350; KM and, 348; mentoring and, 349; problem solving and, 349; societal effects of, 349
"Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 127–143
Institutional transferability, 387
Interactional justice, 327, 338
Internal development, 451–452
International HRD: cross-national influences and, 387–390; cultural values perspective and, 387; globablization and, 383, 385; HRM and, 383; institutional transferability and, 387; intraorganizational influences and, 390–392; limited role of, 385; studies on, 383–385. See also International HRD, and indigenous and multinational firms (study)
International HRD, and indigenous and multinational firms (study): conclusions, 400–401; cross-national influences and, 387–390; discussion, 400; future research and, 402; hypotheses, 388–391, 396, 399, 400–401; intraorganizational influences and, 390–392; limitations, 401–402; literature background and, 383–387; methods, 392–395; procedures, 392–393; research problem, 385–392; results, 395–400; sample, 392; variables, 393–395. See also International HRD
"Invited Reaction: Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 263–269
"Invited Reaction: Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 145–150
"Invited Reaction: Linking Learning with Financial Performance," 23–29
"Invited Reaction: The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 377–382

J

Job involvement, 361
Job satisfaction: accountability and, 309; affect and, 411; antecedents of, 309; burnout and, 173–174; definition of, 173, 309; definitions of, 411–412;

depersonalization and, 183; factors in, 173–174; importance of, 412; motivational theory and, 411; opponent process theory and, 411; outcomes of, 309; perceptions of justice and, 327; personal accomplishment and, 183; promotions and, 328; ROI systems approach and, 217–218; in small firms, 407–408, 412–413, 423; social influence hypothesis and, 411; of SSSPs, 183–184; studies on, 411; supervisor-employee relationship and, 318; work rewards and, 328; workplace design and, 431–434, 441; workplace learning and, 412–413, 423. See also Accountability, job satisfaction and trust and (study); Burnout/job satisfaction, in Student Support Services personnel (study); Workplace learning, and job satisfaction (study)
Job Satisfaction Scale (JSS), 176
Just-in-time (JIT) learning: formal vs. informal learning and, 240; HRD and, 238, 240–241; instructional design technology and, 240–241; learning counselors and, 241
Justice: distributive, 327; interactional, 327, 338; organizational, 327; procedural, 327; promotions and, 327
Justice theory, 327

K

Kahnweiler, W. M., "An Exploratory Investigation of Learning Culture Theory and Employee Participation in Decision Making," 271–288
Kaufman, R., "A Perspective Adjustment to Add Value to External Clients, Including Society," 109–115;
"Keep Your Metaphor . . . Please!" 225–226
Kimberley, N., "Toward Improved Employment Relations Practices of Casual Employees in the New South Wales Registered Clubs Industry," 53–70
Kirkpatrick's model, 208, 213
KM, 348
Knowledge, skills, and abilities (KSAs), 32–33
Knowledge capital, 238
Kuchinke, K. P., "Institutional and Curricular Characteristics of Leading Graduate HRD Programs in the United States," 127–143
Kupritz, V. W., "The Relative Impact of Workplace Design on Training Transfer," 427–447

L

Large-scale organizational change (LSOC): benefits of, 292; core competencies and, 301; culture and, 290–292; definition of, 290; integrated model of, 290–291; lack of agreement on, 289; leadership and, 290–292; managerial behavior and, 291; mission/strategy and, 290–292; performance and, 290, 297–298; research on, 289; structure and, 290–292; discussion, 299–303; factors affecting, 290–292, 299–300; future research, 303; HRD and, 301; hypotheses, 292–294; implications, 300–302; leadership practices and, 302; limitations, 302–303; managerial behavior and, 298–299; measures, 295–297; method, 294–297; organizational flexibility and, 299; performance and, 297–298; procedure, 294–295; purpose of, 289–290; results, 297–299; subjects, 294; theoretical background, 290–294; training practices and, 302. See also Performance
"Large-Scale Organizational Change and Performance: An Empirical Examination," 289–305
Lawler, J. J., "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among "Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406
Leadership: promotions and, 326–327, 338; trait approach and, 371
Learning counselors, 241
Learning organizations: action imperatives for, 7; advantages of, 6; business context and, 27–28; chief learning officers and, 27; as collective entity, 468–469; definitions of, 6; DLOQ assessment tool and, 7–8; leverage points for, 7; performance and, 6–7, 17; research on, 271; self-directed learning and, 468–469; studies on, 6, 18; Wizard of Oz and, 5–6. See also Learning organizations, financial performance and (study); Organizational learning culture, and employee participation in decision making (study)

Learning organizations, financial performance and (study): canonical correlation and, 15–16; cautions about, 24–28; chief learning officers and, 27; conclusions, 18; data analysis, 13–16; discussion, 16–17; DLOQ assessment instrument and, 7–8, 10–11, 13–15, 17, 25 financial performance as criterion of success and, 26–27; future research and, 17–18; instrumentation, 10–11; key respondents as proxies for organiztaional characteristics and, 24–26; learning and business context and, 27–28; limitations, 17; perceptual performance measures, 11; purpose, 7; research design, 9–13; research questions, 8; sample, 9–10, 17; secondary financial performance measures, 11–13, 17; theoretical framework, 7–8; Watkins/Marsick concept and, 7. See also Learning organizations
Learning-performance dichotomy, 473
Learning strategies, 469
Li, N., "A Systems Approach to Measuring Return on Investment of HRD Interventions," 203–224
Lifelong learning, 151. See also On-the-job training, in the Netherlands (study)
Lohman, M. C., "Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 243–261
Lowry, D. S., "Toward Improved Employment Relations Practices of Casual Employees in the New South Wales Registered Clubs Industry," 53–70
Lynham, S. A., "Assessing Institutional Sources of Scholarly Productivity in Human Resource Development from 1995 to 2001," 341–345

M

McCLoy, R. A., "Invited Reaction: The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 377–382
Managerial behavior: large-scale organizational change and, 291, 298–299; quality of service and, 293
Managerial competency needs analysis: research on, 33–34; theory-practice gap and, 34. See also Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study): descriptive analysis, 37–42; discussion, 43–48; future research, 49; HRD implications and, 47–48; limitations, 48–49; managerial competency needs analysis and, 33–34; method, 34–37; method 1: managerial competencies analysis and, 35–36, 42–46; method 2: managerial training requests analysis and, 36, 42–43, 46–47; performance improvement and, 32–33; procedure, 35–36; purpose, 34; relationship between methods and, 43, 47–48; results, 37–43; sample, 34–35; Spanish tourism industry and, 31–32; theoretical background, 32–34; variables, 36–37
"Managerial Competency Needs and Training Requests: The Case of the Spanish Tourist Industry," 31–51
Managers. See Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
Maslach Burnout Inventory (MBI), 176
"Matching Training Methods and Factors of Cognitive Ability: A Means to Improve Training Outcomes," 71–87
May, G. L., "HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242
Mayer, R. E., "Invited Reaction: Cultivating Problem-Solving Skills Through Problem-Based Approaches to Professional Development," 263–269
Meaning making, at work, 238
Mentoring: online, 349; workforce diversity and, 117–121
Mentoring Dilemmas: Developmental Relationships within Multicultural Organizations, reviewed, 117–121
Meta-HRD, 148
Metaphors: as communication tools, 225; exercises with, 225–226; HRD research and, 352; use of, 225–226; as inquiry tools, 225–226
Montesino, M. U., "Strategic Alignment of Training, Transfer-Enhancing Behaviors, and Training Usage: A Posttraining Study," 89–108
Motivation: affectivity and, 359; conscientiousness and, 369; Five-Factor Model and, 359; job involvement and, 361; to learn/train, 358; to transfer training, 358; work commitment and, 359–360. See also Motivation to improve work through learning (MIWTL)

Motivation to improve work through learning (MIWTL): agreeableness and, 369–370; conscientiousness and, 369; critique of, 377–381; definition of, 358; dispositional influences and, 371; extroversion and, 370, 378–379; goal orientation and, 370 HRD and, 371; implications, 371–372, 380; limitations, 372, 380–381; model of, 361–362; neuroticism and, 370, 378; openness to experience and, 370; positive affect and, 369, 378; work commitment and, 360, 378–379. See also Motivation to improve work through learning, dispositional effects and (study)
Motivation to improve work through learning, dispositional effects and (study): analysis, 364; discussion, 365–370; dispositional model and, 361–362; future research and, 372, 381; instrumentation, 361–363; literature background, 358–361; measurement model analysis, 364–365; method, 361; procedure, 361; results, 364–365; sample, 361; structural model analysis, 365
Multisource assessment (MSA): accountability and, 199; assessment of, 188; cautions about, 189; costs of, 187, 199; cross-cultural applications of, 200; definition of, 188; developmental use of, 189; diverse process of, 199; effectiveness of, 189–190, 200; evaluation of, 189; impact of, 188–189, 199; organizational readiness and, 199–200; origins of, 187–188; performance evaluation and, 188–190; strategic integration and, 200; technology and, 200; widespread use of, 187–188, 198. See also Multisource assessment programs, in organizations (study)
Multisource assessment programs, in organizations (study): conclusion, 200–201; data analysis, 192; data collection, 191–192; description of MSA practices, 192–195; design issues and, 197–198; discussion, 198–200; issues in MSA usage, 195–198; limitations, 200; methodology, 190–192; population/sample, 190–191; purpose, 190, 198; results, 192–198; technical issues and, 198; user resistance and, 195–197. See also Multisource assessment (MSA)
"Multisource Assessment Programs in Organizations: An Insider's Perspective," 187–202
Murrel, A. J., Mentoring Dilemmas: Developmental Relationships within Multicultural Organizations, reviewed, 117–121

N

Naquin, S. S., "The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 357–376
Near transfer, 265
Negative affect (NA), 359
Netherlands. See On-the-job training, in the Netherlands (study)
Normative commitment, 360–361

O

Off-the-job training methods, 72
On-the-job training (OJT), 422. See also On-the-job training, in the Netherlands (study)
On-the-job training, in the Netherlands (study): calculation model and, 159–162, 166–167; characteristics of, 155–156; conclusion, 166–167; conjoint analysis of survey and, 154–157; cost-benefit analysis of, 160, 166; employee vignette and, 156; employer/employee survey and, 153–154; employer-sponsored, 153; implications, 166; policy measures and, 157–159, 166; scenario results and, 162–165. See also Calculation model, of lifelong learning; Lifelong learning
Organizational alignment. See Strategic alignment
Organizational behavior: organizational change and, 292; organizational learning culture and, 272; performance and, 292–293
Organizational change: behavior change and, 292; culture and, 290; environmental variables and, 293; factors in successful, 290; flexibility and, 293, 299; HRD and, 238; leadership and, 290; mission/strategy and, 290; structure and, 290. See also Change; Large-scale organizational change, and performance (study)

Organizational commitment, 327, 360–361
Organizational culture: chaos theory and, 301; performance and, 293–294
Organizational goals, 410
Organizational justice, 327
Organizational learning culture (OLC): communication networks and, 271; employee behavior/values and, 272; learning organizations and, 271; participation in decision making and, 271; Schein's theory of, 271–273, 283; theoretical propositions about, 275. See also Organizational learning culture (OLC); Organizational learning culture, and employee participation in decision making (study)
Organizational learning culture, and employee participation in decision making (study): background, 271–272; data analysis, 278–279; discussion, 282–285; future research, 284–285; goal of, 272–273; instrumentation, 277; limitations, 283–284; literature review, 273–275; methodology, 276–279; participants, 276–277; participation in decision-making data and, 282; practice implications, 285; procedures, 277–278; results, 279–282; theoretical propositions about, 275, 282–283. See also Organizational learning culture (OLC)
Organizations, societal value added and, 109–111. See also Organizational behavior; Organizational change; Organizational culture; Organizational learning culture (OLC); Small businesses

P

Participation, in decision making: factors involved in, 272; research on, 272–274; theoretical propositions about, 275. See also Organizational learning culture, and employee participation in decision making (study)
Performance: accountability and, 309; corporate culture and, 293–294; EB research and, 431; organizational behavior and, 292–293; organizational change and, 290; self-directed learning and, 469; workplace design and, 431–432. See also Large-scale organizational change, and performance (study); Performance improvement professionals
Performance evaluation. See Multisource assessment (MSA)
Performance improvement professionals: competency needs analysis and, 32–33; ethical perspective adjustment for, 113–114; responsibility of, 110; societal value added and, 110–112
Personality theory: Five-Factor Model and, 359; organizational applications of, 359. See also Dispositional research
"Perspective Adjustment to Add Value to External Clients, Including Society, A," 109–115
"Perspectives on the Ethical Standards of the Academy," 227–230
Positive affect (PA), 359
Problem-based learning approach, 244–245, 251–253, 255, 263–264. See also Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study)
Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study): action learning and, 244–245, 253–256, 264–265; case study, 244, 247–2550, 254, 256–258, 264–265; goal-based scenario, 244, 250–251, 255, 264–265; K–12 learning environments and, 266, 268; medical education and, 268; problem-based learning, 244–245, 251–253, 255, 263–264, 264–266. See also Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study)
Problem solving: by analogy, 267; importance of, 243–244; online, 349; problem types and, 267; professional development programs for, 244; schemata and, 244. See also Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study)
Procedural justice, 327
Productivity. See Performance; Scholarly productivity
Professional development programs: cognitive skills and, 244; problem-solving skills and, 243–244. See also

Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study); Training/development
Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study): action learning, 244–245, 253–256; case study, 244, 247–250, 254, 256–258; costs of, 257; design differences and, 245, 254–259; design issues, 256–257; development issues and, 257; discussion, 254–259; experts and, 244; facilitator training/skills and, 287–258; findings, 246–254; future research, 258–259, 265–268; goal-based scenario, 244, 250–251, 255; implementation issues and, 257; implications for designing, 258; need for cognitive theory, 267–268; need for empirical research base and, 268; need for sharper definitions and, 265–267; problem-based learning and, 244–245, 251–253, 255; problem-solving skill development and, 254–256; purpose, 245; rationale, 244; resource allocation and, 258; setting objectives and, 258; training methods and, 245–246, 264–265; types, 244–245, 264–265. See also Training/development
Professional expertise, 244, 267
Promotion magnitude satisfaction, 329
Promotion satisfaction: defined, 328; promotion opportunity and, 328
Promotions: aftermath of, 326; CEOs and, 326–327; decision-making process in, 326; employee tenure and, 337; expectations of, 328–329; individual variables affecting, 326; interactional justice and, 338; job satisfaction and, 327–328; leadership and, 326–327, 338; organizational commitment and, 327; perceptions of justice and, 327; promotion frequency and, 337; research on, 325–330. See also Promotions, and promotion outcomes (study)
Promotions, and promotion outcomes (study): discussion, 336–338; employee tenure and, 337; goal, 328; hypotheses, 328–329, 334 interactional justice and, 338; leadership and, 338; limitations, 338–339; measures, 330–333; method, 329–333; promotion frequency and, 337; results, 333–336; sample, 329–330, 333; theoretical background, 327–328. See also Promotions

R

RBN (Raju/Burke/Normand) model, 207, 219
Recruitment, 451–452
Registered clubs industry. See Casual workers, employment relations with (study)
Reio, T. G., Jr., review by, 231–235
"Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment, The," 5–21
"Relationship Between Workplace Learning and Job Satisfaction in U.S. Small to Midsize Businesses, The," 407–425
"Relationships Between Accountability, Job Satisfaction, and Trust," 307–323
"Relative Impact of Workplace Design on Training Transfer, The," 427–447
Research. See Dispositional research; HRD research
Resource-based view of the enterprise, 451
Return on expectations, 211
Return on investment (ROI): benefit-cost analysis and, 209; criticism of, 209; definition of, 211–212; economic studies on, 204–206; HRD field and, 208–212; systems approach to, 214–219; training evaluations and, 208–210; utility analysis and, 206–208. See also Return on investment, for HRD interventions (study)
Return on investment, for HRD interventions (study): analytical framework for, 212–214; application scenarios and, 216–218; background, 203–204; conclusion, 220; definition of terms and, 211–212; discussion, 218–220; future research, 219–220; limitations, 219; measurement approaches and, 208–210; measurement issues and, 210–211; operationalization of framework and, 214–216; research review, 204–205; utility analysis and, 206–208. See also Return on investment (ROI)
Reviews: Foundations of Human Resource Development, 471–475; Human Resource Development (Third Edition), 231–235; Human Resource Development and Information Technology: Making Global Connections, 347–350; Mentoring Dilemmas: Developmental Relationships within Multicultural Organizations, 117–121

Roth, G. L., "Humor, Humor Theory, and HRD," 351–355
Rowden, R. W., "The Relationship Between Workplace Learning and Job Satisfaction in U.S. Small to Midsize Businesses," 407–425
Russ-Eft, D. F., "Change and Stability," 1–3

S

Schemata, 244. See also Problem solving
Scholarly productivity, in HRD (study): findings, 343–344; general data, 344; limitations, 343; methodology, 342; most important issues in, 342, 344; research questions, 341; significance of study, 342
Scott, K. S., "Relationships Between Accountability, Job Satisfaction, and Trust," 307–323
Self-directed learning (SDL): advantages/importance of, 467; as collective process, 468–469; as individual process, 468; learning organizations and, 468–469; learning strategies and, 469; for personal growth, 468–469; performance and, 469; purpose of, 467–468; work environment and, 468
Self-managed teams, 307–308, 312
Self-management training, 429
Shareholder value: CEO stress and, 239; defined, 239; HRD and, 238–239
Short, D. C., "HRD: A Voice to Integrate the Demands of System Changes, People, Learning, and Performance," 237–242
Simon, A., "Toward Improved Employment Relations Practices of Casual Employees in the New South Wales Registered Clubs Industry," 53–70
Simulation, 72
Single loop learning, 254–255, 266
Sleezer, C. M., Human Resource Development and Information Technology: Making Global Connections, reviewed, 347–350
Small businesses: advantages of, 409; definition of, 40; importance of, 408–409; job satisfaction and, 406–407, 412–413, 423; workplace learning in, 409–410
Societal value added: checklist for, 111; employees and, 110–112; organizations and, 109–111
Source problem, 267
Spain, tourist organizations in. See Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
Standards of Ethics and Integrity (AHRD): development efforts for, 227–228; questions for Socratic dialogue and, 229–230; value statements and, 228–229
Strategic alignment: definition of, 91; employee awareness of, 103–105; models of, 91; scenarios of, 91–92; training and, 91–92, 102–103. See also Training alignment, and posttraining usage (study); Training methods, and cognitive ability (study)
"Strategic Alignment of Training, Transfer-Enhancing Behaviors, and Training Usage: A Posttraining Study," 89–108
Student Support Services personnel (SSSP): components in success of, 170; services provision of, 170; TRIO programs, 170. See also Burnout/job satisfaction, in Student Support Services personnel (study)
"Study of the Influence of Promotions on Promotion Satisfaction and Expectations of Future Promotions Among Managers, A," 325–340
Swanson, R. A., Foundations of Human Resource Development, reviewed, 471–475; "Keep Your Metaphor . . . Please!" 225–226
Synomorphy, 431
"Systems Approach to Measuring Return on Investment of HRD Interventions, A," 203–224
Systems approach, to HRD interventions: advantages of, 218–219; analytical framework for, 212–216; application scenarios for, 216–218; limitations of, 219; unit analysis models and, 219. See also Return on investment, for HRD interventions (study)

T

Target problem, 267
Technical competency, 33, 35–36
Temporary employment, 54
Thompson, M. A., "An Exploratory Investigation of Learning Culture Theory and Employee Participation in Decision Making," 271–288

Thoms, P., "Relationships Between Accountability, Job Satisfaction, and Trust," 307–323
360 degree feedback, 188. See also Multisource assessment (MSA)
Tourism industry. See Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
"Toward Improved Employment Relations Practices of Casual Employees in the New South Wales Registered Clubs Industry," 53–70
Tradition: components of, 124–125; of HRD, 123–125; obsession with newness and, 123
Training alignment, and posttraining usage (study): descriptive data, 96–98; findings/discussion, 102–106; future research, 106; HRD and, 104–105; hypotheses, 93; hypothesis testing, 98–101; limitations, 106; methodology, 93–95; problem statement, 89–92; research questions, 92–93; variables/measurements, 95–96
Training/development: of casual workers, 66–67; costs, 71–72; employee satisfaction and, 217–218; government programs for, 205; human capital theory and, 152; human competence and, 208; instructor-led, 443; Kirkpatrick's model and, 208, 213; methods, 71; off-the-job methods of, 72; organizational nature and, 208; ROI on, 89–90; sales volume and, 216–217; strategic alignment and, 91–92, 102–103; training ROI and, 204–205; Web-based, 348. See also On-the-job training (OJT); Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study); Training alignment, and posttraining usage (study); Training methods, and cognitive ability (study)
Training methods: information presentation and, 72; information processing and, 72; simulation and, 72; types of, 72. See also Professional development, problem-based approaches to (study); Training methods, and cognitive ability (study)
Training methods, and cognitive ability (study): cognitive ability and, 73–74, 78–79, 84–85; demographics and, 76, 78; discussion, 84–85; future research implications, 85; hypotheses, 74, 79–84; measures, 75–76; method, 74–78; practice implications, 84–85; purpose, 72; results, 78–84; study limitations, 85; subjects, 74–75; test of hypotheses, 79– training session procedure, 76–78
Training needs: competency and, 33; definition of, 32. See also Managerial competency needs, and training requests (study)
Training ROI (return on investment), studies on, 204–205. See also Return on investment, for HRD interventions (study)
Training transfer: challenge of, 427; environment and behavior framework and, 429–431; failure of, 427; goal setting and, 429; HRD research and, 427–428; measurement instruments and, 429; models for, 90; motivation and, 358; near vs. far, 265; organizational context and, 427–428; organizational factors affecting, 428–429; self-management training and, 429; transfer climate and, 429; work environment and, 428–429; workplace design and, 434, 438, 441–443. See also Training alignment, and posttraining usage (study); Training methods, and cognitive ability (study); Training transfer, workplace design and (study)
Training transfer, workplace design and (study): data analysis, 436–438; data trustworthiness, 435–436; design features affecting training transfer and, 438–439, 441–443; environment and behavior framework and, 429–431; future research, 443–444; impact of workplace design and, 431–434, 439–441; limitations, 443; literature review, 428–434; organizational factors and, 428–429; participants, 435; research methods, 435–438; results, 438–444; sample size, 435. See also Training transfer; Workplace design
Training usage: factors in, 90; models for, 90, 103; supervisors and, 90. See also Training alignment, and posttraining usage (study); Training methods, and cognitive ability (study)
Transaction cost economics, 451
Trends, influencing HRD, 238–241
TRIO programs, 170
Trust: accountability and, 311–312; job satisfaction and, 311; leadership and, 312; organizational importance of, 311; psychological contracts and, 311; self-managed teams and, 312; supervisor-employee relationship and, 318. See also

Accountability, job satisfaction and trust and (study)

U

Utility analysis (UA), 206–208, 219

V

Values, of HRD, 238
van Leeuwen, M. J., "The Costs and Benefits of Lifelong Learning: The Case of the Netherlands," 151–168
van Praag, B.M.S., "The Costs and Benefits of Lifelong Learning: The Case of the Netherlands," 151–168
Virtual workplace, 238

W

Waclawski, J., "Large-Scale Organizational Change and Performance: An Empirical Examination," 289–305
Wan, T.W.D., "Differences in International Human Resource Development Among Indigenous Firms and Multinational Affiliates in East and Southeast Asia," 383–406
Wang, G. G., "A Systems Approach to Measuring Return on Investment of HRD Interventions," 203–224
Wentling, T. M., Human Resource Development and Information Technology: Making Global Connections, reviewed, 347–350
Werner, J. M., Human Resource Development (Third Edition), reviewed, 231–235
Wise, L. L., "Invited Reaction: The Effects of Personality, Affectivity, and Work Commitment on Motivation to Improve Work Through Learning," 377–382
Work. See Employment
Work commitment: dispositional characteristics and, 359; job involvement and, 361; motivation and, 360; motivation to improve work through learning and, 360, 378–379; organizational commitment and, 360–361; training motivation and, 359; work ethic and, 360
Work environment, workplace learning and, 468. See also Workplace design
Worked-out examples, 266
Workforce diversity, 117–121
Workplace design: BOSTI study and, 431, 442; custodial vs. strategic view of, 431; definition of, 430; environment and behavior framework and, 429–431; flexible workspace and, 438; impact of, 431–434; job satisfaction and, 431–434, 441; management styles and, 431; management/work practices and, 433, 442; new technology and, 433; noise problems and, 432, 442; organizational climate and, 430–431; organizational context and, 428; organizational performance and, 431; performance and, 431–433; privacy and, 432, 438–439, 441; proximity problems and, 438–439; training transfer and, 434, 438, 441–443; work processes and, 433–434. See also Training transfer, workplace design and (study)
Workplace learning: forms of, 410; individual goals and, 410–411; job satisfaction and, 412–413, 423; on-the-job training and, 422; organizational goals and, 410; productivity and, 409–410; in small businesses, 409–410, 421–422; work environment and, 468
Workplace learning, and job satisfaction (study): company size and, 407–409, 412–413; conclusion, 423; data analysis, 419; discussion, 421–423; findings, 419–421; future research, 423; instrument, 414–419; limitations, 423; methodology, 413; purpose, 413; research questions, 413; sample, 413–414. See also Workplace learning

Y

Yang, B., "The Relationship Between the Learning Organization Concept and Firms' Financial Performance: An Empirical Assessment," 5–21

Z

Zhu, Y., "The Emerging External Labor Market and the Impact on Enterprise's Human Resource Development in China," 449–468